About the Halifax Club

The Halifax Club was established in 1862 to provide a friendly, professional and private retreat for the exclusive pleasure of members and their guests. The Club thrives in its tradition to serve as an important meeting place for business-minded men and women. It is a place where they can meet, toast the day's successes, dine or simply relax in a warm atmosphere of history and tradition

About Cornwallis Mackenzie

Cornwallis MacKenzie Business Development Inc. is a privately held, federally incorporated company, registered in Nova Scotia carrying out an array of business development and project operation services to a wide range of SME's. The company has been trading since June 6th 2005 and has aided start-ups and emerging businesses in a wide range of sectors including: information & communication technologies (ICT); transportation; wireless communications and passive investment structures. We are dedicated to providing business formation, development, expansion and opportunity location services to companies operating in Atlantic Canada and the United Kingdom.

By being fluent in British, European and North American business practice Cornwallis Mackenzie is ideally placed to assist those in transatlantic finance and even those who are looking to expand from one continent to the next.

Our dedicated management team and partners have a range of business services ranging from business/marketing plan generation to operational structuring and internal seed funding to coordinating complex funding from the full range of public grants and matched funding. Cornwallis MacKenzie is a non-sector specific company which enables us to bring our strengths to bare on many business sectors.

Cornwallis MacKenzie offers our services to existing businesses with proven products and services as well as new start-ups with the potential to expand their sphere of operations both within North America and internationally to the UK who also have the management commitment and financial capability to realize expansion plans. We work as a corporate extension of each clients senior management team to access extended national and / or foreign markets and investment opportunities, to leverage their core business activities and to set the stage for their expansion.

Cornwallis MacKenzie's experience includes attracting seed capital directly from ourselves or through third parties; locating and utilizing government grants and matched funding and financing from financial institutions to ensure the successful implementation of development plans both at home and abroad.

We bring together experience ranging from business management (C-Level); independent and operational directorship experience as well as a range of sector specific experience to bare on clients operations.
